Report on Graduates' Progression to Higher Education (2018-2023)

Institution: Naba Ballygunge Mahavidyalaya

This report analyzes the trends in graduates' progression to higher education from Naba Ballygunge Mahavidyalaya over the last five years (2018-2023). The data collected from the institution's academic records shows the percentage of graduates who have pursued postgraduate programs or other higher education opportunities following their undergraduate studies.

Over the five-year period, the progression rates have shown various trends, reflecting changes in students' academic ambitions, economic conditions, and the availability of higher education opportunities. Several factors may influence these rates, including the quality of academic guidance, the financial ability of students to afford further education, and the career aspirations of graduates.

To better understand and improve these trends, the institution could focus on enhancing career counseling and support services to guide students in their educational journey. Additionally, increasing financial aid opportunities or scholarships could help more students continue their studies despite economic constraints. Strengthening connections with alumni who have successfully pursued higher education can also provide current students with valuable insights and motivation.

This analysis is crucial for developing strategies to support and encourage more graduates to pursue higher education, thereby enhancing the overall educational standards and career opportunities for students at Naba Ballygunge Mahavidyalaya.
