Actions taken report by IQAC based on resolutions adopted in meeting dated 08.09.2020

Key initiatives	Outcome
Strategies to deal with unforeseen circumstances	The Covid-19 pandemic and the global shutdown, slowed down the pedagogical process. In order to smoothen the teaching-learning system, IQAC took all initiatives to strengthen the online system. The Departmental heads of each department, opened whatsapp groups for the three odd semesters and added the departmental faculty members and the respective students of the semester. The online class google meet links, the study materials and other academic information were uploaded there. Some departments also created google classrooms and uploaded audio and video lectures there.
Psychological Aid provided to the students	With the students trying to adjust with the world drastically changed with advent of Covid 19 pandemic, and living within the home-front maintaining social distance, IQAC's novel and humanitarian venture was extending psychological aid to the students. The institution collaborated with reputed organization Wellbeing and Happiness for You (WHY), signed a collaborative linkage and that sealed the bonhomie between NBM and WHY, with the reassurance that the faculty members and students would always get a hand to hold, an ear to listen to and comforting words from a trained psychological counselor in times of mental crisis.
Teaching and Non-teaching Staff	The staff of the college are regularly motivated by IQAC to join various professional development programmes. A 7-days online FDP was conducted in which the faculty members actively participated.
